A new resort at the France-Italy border

Treasure of La Tarentaise

The wood, stone and glass complex gives the traditional chalet style a modern twist. The buildings blend in with the surrounding landscapes and respect the resort's authentic feel. The resort is located in an intimate forest setting, just a stone's throw away from La Rosière village.

La Rosière

A preserved environment

Planned development

The habitants of Montvalezan themselves set out to develop winter sports activities in the mountain pastures surrounding the villages of La Rosière and Les Eucherts.

In order to maintain a village atmosphere and integrate the buildings into the mountain landscape, each new building must be in keeping with traditional styles.

Villages and Chapels Route

Montvalezan, of which La Rosière is a part, is a municipality of 44 Savoy villages that are home to 14 chapels that were mostly constructed in the 17th century.

Pastures, shepherds and artisans

The shepherds did not leave La Rosière when the skiers arrived, quite the contrary! Cows, sheep and goats supply raw materials for the area's cheese and wool industries.

The Montvalezan Farm has a boutique in the ski area.

Petit Saint-Bernard Pass

A link between two valleys & two countries

Petit Saint-Bernard Pass is a legendary link between France and Italy. It has been a stage for the history between these two countries since antiquity. It is also a magnificently preserved valley that is perched between the Tarentaise Valley and the Valle d'Aosta. In the shadow of Mont Blanc and protected by Saint Bernard, the patron saint of mountain climbers, this little oasis of greenery is the perfect place to take a break in summer and winter.

← MONT BLANC

The Saint Bernard

The Saint Bernard dog was used by the clergy of the hospice to look for lost travellers in the mountains. They would attach a little barrel of liqueur to its collar to revive the rescued.

Opening the pass to cars

The Petit Saint-Bernard Pass is open to traffic from May to October, allowing for a quick link between the Valle d'Aosta autoroute and northern Italy, as well as providing access to Mont Blanc tunnel.

The Design brings this enticing nature indoors with a fun spark that tickles the guest's curiosity and wanderlust.
